About Breast Cancer Trials

Breast Cancer Trials (BCT) is a group of world-leading breast cancer doctors and researchers based in Australia and New Zealand with a commitment to exploring and finding better treatments for people affected by breast cancer.

Founded in 1978, BCT conducts a multi-centre national and international clinical trials research program which involves more than 980 researchers in 118 institutions across Australia and New Zealand. More than 17,481 people have participated in our 93 clinical trials.

Our research involves a unique collaboration between researchers, clinical trial participants and supporters, which has improved the treatment of breast cancer, led to changes in the way breast cancer is managed and has saved millions of lives through research collaboration.

Together we are grounded by one simple belief: We can and we will find new and better treatments and prevention strategies for every person affected by breast cancer that saves lives today, tomorrow and forever.

See you
Next Year!
